A Bit of Literary History.

HOW FENIMORE COOPER "DROVE A COACH-AND-SIX" THROUGH LOCKHART'S "SCOTT."

A literary revelation is made by Lewis Gaylord Clark in the December number of Lippincott's Magazine. It appears that Fenimore Cooper's fierce attack upon Lockhart's "Life of Scott"—published in Clark's Knickerbocker a quarter of a century ago—was a reprisal by Cooper, for the abuse he had received from Scott and Lockhart's Quarterly Review. Mr. Clark says of Cooper: "I had read in our city papers accounts of his alleged pompous and un-American bearing abroad; of his unpleasant airs; his sudden, contested usurpations of old accorded feudal privileges on Otsego Lake, near his ancestral home; of his libel suits against out-spoken American editors, then in progress and a theme of general public comment; and, more than all, my business partner and myself had accidentally overheard him express an unfavorable opinion of Washington Irving, as 'not a true American in feeling,' as established popular author by influence, and directed public opinion, both at home and abroad."

These things had made an unfavorable impression upon Mr. Clark, and he stated the facts to Mr. Wiley as his excuse for declining a proffered introduction to Cooper. But Mr. Wiley remarked: "Mr. Cooper has asked for an introduction to you with references to a literary matter of much importance"—and this important subject was the publication of Cooper's attack in the pages of the Knickerbocker.

When Cooper came to the proof sheets, he exposed the secret of his hostility to Scott and Lockhart. We give Mr. Clark's version of Cooper's reasons for wreaking his revenge:

After a little desultory conversation, he said: "Mr. C——, will you permit me to ride in a coach-and-six through Lockhart's 'Life of Walter Scott' in the pages of the Knickerbocker?"

"Undoubtedly," I replied, "but not anonymously. You will allow your name, of course, to be announced as the author?"

"That is what I especially wish," said he, "but even without that," he added with a very expressive smile, "I think there will be little difficulty in tracing its paternity after it has once been read."

And now let me record what must always be regarded why"—of Mr. Cooper's attack upon Lockhart's "Life of Scott." Subsequent personal research and Mr. Cooper's admission on this occasion left no room for doubt.

Let me begin with Mr. Cooper's provocation. His works and himself had been treated with marked injustice on more than one occasion in the pages of the Quarterly Review, a work originated by Scott, and conducted by his son-in-law, Lockhart. In three or four instances the reviewer had industriously collected whatever he thought would prick and sting him as an author and as a man, and especially as an American gentleman. Every one of these articles was marked by a slurring disparagement of Mr. Cooper's merits as a novelist, though he was then in the acme of his fame in Europe.

The "last straw that broke the camel's back" was undoubtedly the extract from Scott's diary in Paris, in which he spoke of "a visit from the American novelist, Cooper—a man with the manners, or rather lack of manners, peculiar to his countrymen." Now the quoting by Lockhart of this entry, after having so unmercifully scourged Cooper in a Review established by Scott and conducted by himself, was not only in bad taste, but seemed to be dictated by a feeling little short of malicious. Mr. Cooper made no allusion to it, however, in his article, nor in any conversation in my presence.

In reading his proof, Mr. Cooper paused to comment upon certain points which it contained. The first remark which he made, as he unrolled and spread out the proof-pages, was: "Sir Walter Scott is a precious subject to be held up as a moral example to American readers!" The self-reviewer, the habitual mystifier in matters touching his own interests; the flutter of dissolute princes and vapid nobles; the humble follower of wealth and power—what a model for a self-respecting, conscientious American!" In the opening of his article he said: "I think the truth should be told." We are called upon to venerate a name that, in a moral sense, owes its extraordinary exaltation to some of the most bare faced violations of the laws of rectitude that ever distinguished the charlatanism of literature! 'Speak no evil of the dead' is a good maxim, but Scott designated his biographer, furnished him materials, knew what sort of a man he was and how he could be used. No one can claim, in his behalf, that he is to be protected from just criticism by the grave. There is another reason to be offered why, in this matter, Sir Walter Scott is entitled to the benefit of no other consideration than those of abstract justice; and that is his diary. In this diary he had sworn never to erase a single line that had once been written in it." Yet many entries were made in it, reflecting most unjustly upon others, when his mind was not in a fit condition to write in a diary at all."

Mr. Cooper did not hesitate to say that Scott at this time was occasionally "foul," and he alleged that no man could have written that terrible drunken scene on shipboard in "The Surgeon's Daughter" without having been an actor in it and speaking from experience.

Reduction of Expenses in the War Department.

The following is from an article in the New York Herald of the 4th inst.:

The total number of enlisted men now in the service is thirty thousand. The number of staff officers has been reduced, and line officers detached for staff duty have been sent back to their regiments. The financial figures show a gradual and a great reduction in the expenditures. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, they were over eighty and a half millions of dollars; 1870, over fifty-seven and a half millions, and 1871 about forty millions. For the next fiscal year the appropriations amount to a little over thirty-six and a half millions, and the estimates for 1873 are a little less than thirty-two and a half millions. These include the cost of river and harbor improvements. Thus it is shown that the reduction in expenses in the War Department during the year 1869–70 amounted to nearly twenty-three millions of dollars, and during the year 1870–71 there was a further reduction of over seventeen and a half millions, while the subsequent appropriations and estimates point to a continued decrease in expenses. The Secretary suggests that the services of extra lieutenants, now authorized by law, to act as regimental adjutants and quartermasters, can be dispensed with, and that the positions now occupied by certain non-commissioned officers can be discontinued without injury to the service. While the troops have been well clothed and fed and comparatively well sheltered, he recommends that adequate appropriations be made to increase their comfort. Modifications and improvements are being made in our seacoast and harbor defenses, in accordance with the requirements of modern warfare.

The Cincinnati Times says the Enquirer's candidate for President—the Pennsylvania Central—"has just borrowed five million dollars." Precisely the amount required to go bail for five of the Tammany delinquents.

A Washington letter says: Not even the passive policy nor the new departure dogmas of the struggling Democracy can put energy enough into the political situation to here to make facts enough to write about.

American Steamships and Government Subsidies.

The question of extending Government aid to American steamship lines, as a means of restoring our ocean navigation interests, has lately engaged the attention of the Chamber of Commerce of this city. The majority of the members who have taken part in the debates seem to have been opposed to the subsidy system, but they appeared to have no objection to extending a fair compensation to American companies for carrying the mails. This is substantially the English system, with which no fault can reasonably be found, provided it can be confined within legitimate bounds. Hitherto this question has been involved in a maze of difficulties, owing to the speculative and visionary character of the great majority of the projects seeking such assistance. Of a dozen or more steamship subsidy bills before Congress at the last session, and which will most likely be revived during the ensuing session, most if not all of them have nothing whatever to commend them to popular favor. They are simply projects for steam lines to run at the expense of Government, without taking into account the competition which they would have to encounter from the powerful companies already in successful operation. Whenever responsible American merchants, business men and capitalists, are prepared to inaugurate a trans-Atlantic line, or lines, of steamships, it will be in order for Government to extend to them its patronage for all mail carriage; but it is no part of the business of the Government to virtually support such lines. The cost of our trans-Atlantic mail service for the last three years has averaged in round numbers something like half a million dollars annually. This has been paid to foreign steamship lines similarly remunerated by their own Governments. With first-class American lines established, it would be right and proper enough to transfer this patronage to them, but with no other assistance, it is extremely doubtful if the higher cost and more expensively managed American steamers could hold their own with the leading European lines. We repeat the opinion we have many times before expressed, that to inaugurate and maintain a successful competition with the great European steamship lines on the Atlantic, a radical change in our whole financial and commercial policy is absolutely essential. If it be desirable that our present maritime dependence upon other nations should continue, then the policy of our Government is right, and ought not to be changed. If, on the contrary, it is better for a great nation to have within itself the means of maintaining its commercial independence in time of peace, and defending itself in war on the land and on the sea, then the Government must so modify its commercial policy as to induce merchants and capitalists to engage once more in marine enterprise. A prostrate ocean commerce is to be rebuilt, but it can only be rebuilt by the adoption of a broad, comprehensive national policy, in place of the narrow and selfish one to which we now cling. Great Britain holds the key to the commerce of the world, and it will require something more than a system of Government subsidies to wrest it from her grasp, even if such a system were perfectly feasible and just.

Resources of Eastern Oregon.

A new pamphlet on the resources of Eastern Oregon has been published at La Grande. We are indebted to E. S. McComas, Esq., for a copy. The following summary is from its pages:

Baker county is one of the largest and best counties in the State. A marked increase in population and wealth has taken place during the last year. The gold product of this county in 1870 was one million of dollars. The taxable property, $418,400. A large portion of Powder River Valley lies in this county, which is the largest valley in Eastern Oregon.

Grant county, with a population of 3,000, contains large tracts of excellent grazing lands. The gold yield since the discovery of the mines in 1862, is ten million dollars. The county has about three thousand acres under cultivation, and the taxable property is $321,604.

Union county has a population of about 4,000, with nearly 1,000 voters. It is situated on the main route of travel from the Columbia to Idaho. Within its borders is the celebrated Grande Ronde Valley, containing 288,000 acres of arable lands, with 20,000 under cultivation. Also, the Willow, Eagle and Pine Creek Valleys, all unsurpassed in agricultural localities, and in all of which settlements are now being made. The grain product of Grand Ronde Valley alone, for the past year was: Wheat, 250,000 bushels; oats, 200,000 bushels; barley, 150,000. When we take into consideration its vast tracts of grazing lands, the mineral wealth of gold, copper and iron, hardly yet prospected and entirely undeveloped, its unexhaustible forests of timber, its unrivalled water power, we can but come to the conclusion that on no distant day Union county will rank among the foremost in the State. Its taxable property will be next year about one million dollars.

Umatilla county has a population of 2,500, with about three hundred thousand acres under cultivation. The county has an area of about six thousand square miles, two-thirds of which is arable land of the very best quality. The taxable property is eighteen hundred thousand dollars.

Wasco county is one of the best for stock raising in the State. Dalles City, distant one hundred and ten miles from Portland, is a place of considerable trade, all the merchandize intended for Eastern Oregon and parts of Idaho, passing through this place. Here is established a woolen mill, and the U. S. Government is building a mint. The place now gains additional importance, as being the supposed point of connection between the new railroad and the Columbia river.

A Fatal Rent.

An instance of the pitcher going once too often to the well has occurred in India. Capt. Doig, an infantry officer, had become renowned as a tiger hunter and the fame of his exploits had even reached Europe. He was supposed to be invincible, had performed almost fabulous feats, and was held by the natives to bear a charmed life. The poor gentleman was, notwithstanding, killed by a tiger early in September. He went out one day and had brilliant success, slaying a fine tiger single handed. Four or five days after news came that another tiger was lurking in the same place, about six miles from the cantonment. The new arrival at once began to distinguish himself by slaughtering bullocks, and Captain Doig resolved to bring his sport to an end. Unaccompanied save by his own "Shikaries," the hunter repaired to the spot. The savage beast was soon found, and Capt. Doig got rather a long shot at him, and felt that he had hit him in the head. His impression, however, was that the tiger had got off into the jungle, not much hurt, and that he must beat again for him in a fresh quarter. While preparing to do this, Capt. Doig being at that moment alone, the enraged animal suddenly leaped from cover, and instantly seized his foe and bore him to the earth. Captain Doig afterward said that the onset was so swift that he never even saw the beast until he himself was on the ground, and being, as he expressed it, "family eaten." A horrible struggle ensued, the "Shikaries" sprang to the rescue, and the intrepid hunter, actually fought himself out of the tiger's clutches, and not only that, but managed to destroy him. The encounter was nevertheless fatal. Captain Doig had the pluck to ride back to the cantonment, being lifted to the saddle for that purpose. But he never recovered from the shock and the frightful laceration he received, and five days after he breathed his last. For men who get celebrated for this kind of achievement, its pursuit seems to have irresistible fascination, and the sad case of Captain Doig has many precedents.

The schooner Loleta, which drifted ashore at Port Townsend, has been towed to Seattle. As was at first supposed, she took in but little water, and all her cargo was saved in good condition.

The following not very flattering paragraph is in the Olympia Transcript: Those who feel aggrieved in consequence of legislative reports, letters, charges in the public press, or otherwise, as to their ability to steal from the United States treasury, or our own Territorial treasury, will be afforded through our columns ample space to vindicate their reputation, if they have any, not excepting the financier from Pierce county. The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 20, 1871.

May's Defalcations.

At last we have from the Democratic press a statement of the amount of defalcations charged against S. E. May, late Secretary of State. It is still some months earlier than the time when it was intended that the disclosures should be made. The affair has been kept back a whole year in order that it might be sprung for use in the coming election, Gov. Grover has been managing it, and with his characteristic desire to try to accomplish things by small methods, he has hoped that if this defalcation were judiciously made use of, it would materially help him in his efforts to get to the Senate of the United States. Hence the long delay in working the matter up. But the repeated demands that have been made by the OREGONIAN during the last three months for action in the premises have, it would seem, brought the matter out somewhat earlier than was anticipated. The Herald therefore publishes an authorized statement of the charges against May. They are as follows, being the charges on which May has been indicted:

1. Larceny, of $3,560 79; taken from the 5 per cent. fund, arising from the sales of United States public lands.

2. Larceny, of $1,857 46; taken from the 5 per cent. fund.

3. Embezzling the proceeds of the sales of seven hundred and forty-two copies of the Code, authorized to be sold at $5 per volume, $4,452.

4. Larceny of $1,162, School and University funds, arising from the sale of lands.

5. Larceny of $2,825 20; paid to May as Secretary on account of support of persons in the Insane Asylum, and not paid to the Treasurer as the law requires.

These amounts foot up $13,663 54. Of course it is understood that the investigation so far has been partisan and ex parte, and has been prosecuted with a desire of making the defalcation appear as large as possible, for party ends. The judicial investigation to be had, at which May's sureties will have an opportunity to appear with documents and proofs, before judgment is rendered against them, will indoubtedly materially reduce the sum. The item regarding the sale of the code will almost certainly be greatly reduced. Legislatures have for several years voted away copies of the code with reckless prodigality; and May has sins enough of his own to answer for without being called to account for those of the Legislative power.

As regards the defalcation, whatever the sum may be ascertained to be, nothing is to be said in extenuation of it. The man who is guilty of these crimes should be, and we trust will be, severely dealt with. It is not possible to condemn with too much severity either the crimes themselves or the perpetrator of them. And it not been for the unexcusable delay of the present officials, growing out of their stronger desire to make capital for their party than to bring the guilty to justice and recover the money for the State, May might now be in the Penitentiary, and the money recovered from the sureties and in the State Treasury. The sureties are B. F. Dowell and Jesse Applegate, who stand ready to make good the sum, as soon as it is judicially ascertained what the defalcation is. The State will suffer no loss by the crime that has been committed; but this is no extenuation of the crime itself, which though the State recovers the money, should be punished as any other offence of the same grade.

Who Should be Censured?

The Pharisaical "organ" attempts to make the course of the OREGONIAN in regard to May's defalcation a subject of censure. It doesn't like what we have done towards urging the State officials to do their duty in bringing him to justice and recovering the money that is missing. The officials were not ready to act and didn't want to press the matter until just before the election of next June. Hence the organ complains that,—

The OREGONIAN has, from time to time, referred to this subject, challenging the present State authorities and the Democratic press to come out and tell all they knew, when, it must have known such a course would have been equivalent to serving notice upon May to flee from threatened prosecution.

If there was danger that May would escape justice, why the delay of the officials of the State, who for a whole year have professed to know that he had stolen public money? The Herald further says:

If May escapes it will be because the course of the OREGONIAN and other Radical papers which had gives him warning to get out of the way.

Let us look at this. During the whole of the year, reports have been in circulation that May was a defaulter. These reports have emanated from Salem officials. Members of the Committee of Investigation have talked freely about it. Democratic papers have been full of hints and statements to the same effect. The whole affair has been made a matter of common notoriety. If Governor Grover and his official associates could not keep their secret, is it any fault of ours? Finally we got tired of hearing the rumors and charges they had put in circulation, without taking any action to bring May to account, and we called upon them to take this action at once. This course the organ calls our "ill-timed and uncalled for allusions to May's reputed delinquencies." If these allusions were ill-timed and uncalled for when made by us, were they not equally so when made by the State authorities and by them worked into circulation until they became common fame? The fact is our remarks were "ill-timed" only in that they pushed up the officials to take action sooner than they intended.

What has Been "Unearthed."

The foreman of the late grand jury of this county, who has no thought on any subject which is not warped by intense partisanship, thought it would be a good thing for his party for him to put forth a statement, ostensibly official, that the grand jury had found that the authorities of Multnomah county had been guilty of "profligate and unwarranted" use of the public funds. His trick has been fully exposed. The grand jury did not think and did not report that there had been any "profligate and unwarranted" use of the public funds. Nor does the community think so. The officials who have the management of the finances of Multnomah county are too well and too favorably known to permit the community to entertain any suspicions whatever of their integrity. The Democratic organ wants to make it appear that a "fearless and industrious Democrat" has brought great frauds and corruptions to light which the officials were trying to conceal. Nothing has been brought to light that was not very well known before, and "Sylvester Pennoyer, Foreman," and the editor of the Herald have been cackling over supposed discoveries, and taking credit to themselves for "unearthing" matters that have never been secret, and which show nothing in the nature of frauds or improper transactions, but plain, straightforward, fair dealing and an administration of the affairs of the county which the great body of citizens will approve and commend.

The course of this proceeding shows that it is not mal-administration of the affairs of the county that has been "unearthed" but the very discreditable falsification by the foreman of the late grand jury. So far, this is the only secret dragged to light.

Senator Schurz and the Germans.

The Cincinnati Commercial, a paper which cannot be suspected either of friendliness to the President or of a disposition to underrate the strength of the elements opposed to him, examines in a leading editorial the influence over the Germans possessed by Senator Schurz, and declares it to have been overestimated. The Commercial believes that the Senator might control the German vote in Missouri, although it does not seem quite sure even of this. In Ohio, the Cincinnati journal intimates, there are many German Republicans who, while criticising the administration almost as much as Senator Schurz, would nevertheless not only not support him in a contest with the administration, but would "offer something more than a passive resistance" to the movement. Again, in reference to the Wisconsin election, the Commercial says that it was claimed that the Germans would vote against Mr. Washburn for Governor because he was an avowed Grant man. Senator Schurz himself mixed in the election and made special efforts in Milwaukee, Washington and Ozaukee counties to defeat Mr. Washburn. The Democrats themselves see and acknowledge that it was in precisely these counties that they suffered the greatest loss, and that the German counties gave the usual Republican majorities. The Commercial concludes with the very sensible reflection:—

Upon the principle that the proof of the pudding is in the eating, it is concluded that either the reform Senator's influence with his fellow-countrymen is feebler than was supposed, or they are less dissatisfied with the administration than has been represented. In either case it is not flattering for the prospect of carrying off the German vote to the camp of the opposition.

In the Herald of December 10th Mr. Pennoyer published a letter in which he denied the truth of our statement, that a document which had appeared in print, purporting to be a report by the Grand Jury of this county, was a "spurious document." He affirmed that the report was genuine, and that it was accepted by a vote of that body. Five of the seven members of the Grand Jury have published a statement in which they affirm that the document is spurious, and was not accepted as their report. Now comes the Herald saying that this statement places the five members in a humiliating position! We venture to affirm that the one member who drew up the document, falsely submitted it to the Court as the report of the Grand Jury, and afterwards published a letter in which he charged the OREGONIAN with the untruth, because it said the report was not genuine, feels that the humiliating position is his.

The Herald is of opinion that the five of seven members of the Grand Jury who didn't agree with Mr. Pennoyer, and who have exposed the falsity of his statement regarding their so-called "report," "stultified themselves." So, according to his authority, it is self-stultification for five men not to agree with one. Well, at any rate, they didn't falsify themselves. It was tother fellow who did that, and it has been proven on him.

Returning to Specie Payments.

The Journal of Commerce has the following on the question of returning to specie payments:

We have from several sources as many different plans to be presented to Congress providing for a return to specie payments. Any one of them would answer, but it is of no use for us to publish or advocate them. Years ago we suggested several practical methods of accomplishing this object, but we have long ceased to press any argument in their favor. It is labor wholly lost. A large majority of the people are in favor of specie payments, but hardly a corporal's guard can be found who are willing to submit voluntarily to the process through which alone it can be reached. Few men, suffering from a chronic ailment only to be cured by this means, however much they may long for health, will lie down patiently under the surgeon's knife and submit calmly to the surgical operation that may be necessary to restore them to soundness. When they are brought face to face with death, they will call the surgeon, but only in a desperate case will they choose this trial. In like manner all men respect virtue, and every decent man will record himself as in favor of righteousness of life; but as this can only be reached through personal self-denial and sacrifice, no such perfection is found in actual experience. The very persons now most clamorous to have the Secretary of the Treasury lead off in the progress towards the specie standard would cry out in louder tones the moment any advance was made, and they began in any way to feel its effects, and bid him stay his hand. When the movement is made it will be involuntary, unpremeditated, and under a compulsion that cannot be resisted.

In the New York Herald we observe an advertisement to the effect that a whole Funeral can be had for $25. Well, that is decidedly cheap; but think of selling suits of Clothing at $18. It is done every day at Kohn & Fleisher's, 91 Front street, where they not only sell suits cheap, but it is so in everything they offer to the public.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—By the last steamer will be received at Kast & Richards, Front street, between Alder and Morrison, a large and elegant stock of goods for the holidays. They have a full assortment of winter goods to store and will be happy to see everybody.

Work of every description in the house finishing line will be done at short notice to the best of satisfaction.

Everybody says S. L. Stone is selling the best bit and two bit cigars in the city.

CITY.

DOWN THE COLUMBIA.—Our correspondent writing from St. Helens furnishes the following items:

Things are distressingly quiet and insipid here in the main, but occasionally a little episode transpires to relieve the tedium of passing events. For instance, the location of a vessel on the formidable crossing; the making of a clerk, or removal of a city site. By the way did you ever hear of that little transaction? In New York, London or Pekin, it would have been considered a herculean undertaking, but here, where small jobs are put up and ground through with a will, it was thought nothing of. You will remember that Columbia City is a place of no small pretension, containing an area of 150 thousand acres, and more, if needed, with Hillsboro, Forest Grove, Tillamook and Astoria as its suburbs, so that you or I would have been loth to have entered into a contract of taking the thing up bodily and moving it back 60 feet from the river—but never heise it was done. The friends of the movement presented a petition to the County Court and said here, Mr. Court, you move that city. The old gentleman shook his head dubiously and asked for a breathing spell, but finally, the poor old fellow had to come to the task. He rolled up his sleeves, spat upon his hands, and hoisting his feet firmly against the Columbia river, and putting his shoulder against the city, with one mighty effort he succeeded in moving it back 60 feet—and had not the bottom of the river have given away, there is no telling where the thing would have stopped—perhaps he might have shoved it out into the Pacific ocean and formed a grand highway for a railroad to China, but unfortunately for "John," the bottom gave way, and that accounts for why vessels are passing the city with impunity.

The winter's amusement opened last Friday night by a ball on the other side of the river but in sight, which from appearances will be followed up by a number of others through the holidays.

The election of officers of St. Helens Lodge No. 32, A. F. & A. M., for the ensuing year, came off last Saturday night, and resulted as follows: G. Ar. Ladd, W. M.; J. G. Hunter, S. W.; W. F. Williams, I. W.; T. C. Watts, Treasurer; B. M. Watts, Secretary; S. D. Bonser, Tyler; P. Cardiff, S. D.; R. R. Foster, I. D.; D. Lynch and W. Meeker, Stewards. The installation will take place at their hall on the eve of St. John's day.

The Good Templars, with their usual taste and love of the beautiful, have prepared a series of entertainments for the evening of the 30th inst., consisting of farces, tableaux, music, speeches, etc. It is given for the benefit of the Order, and from present appearances they will make it vastly entertaining. The Lodge is in a very prosperous condition and wide awake. May they never grow weary until king alcohol is legislated from the face of the earth.

Elder DeVore preached here last Sabbath morning and evening to an appreciative audience. In the evening he gave us a temperance sermon. His conclusions were good.

AN APPEAL.—Elsewhere will be found an appeal to the citizens of Portland in behalf of "The Home." The object of the appeal is for the purpose of raising $3,000, to be used in the erection of a suitable building to be known as the "Home," where the poor and the unfortunate stranger can find shelter. Here, also, will the orphan and the wandering outcast children, who roam the streets unprovided for, and associating with the vile and depraved, learn the way that leads to the penitentiary, find a home and be surrounded by refining influences. Surrounded by all the luxuries and comforts that wealth can purchase, it is hard for one thus situated to be brought to contemplation that in this city of plenty there are human beings who are actually in want of the common necessaries of life, and who nightly find a lodging in the streets. Such as this may appear, yet it is nevertheless true, and to attempt to disguise it would prove fruitless. No refined, this class, and to raise and encourage the fallen and down trodden, is the object and aim of the Society that is such eloquent terms appeal to the liberality of our citizens. Let that appeal be not made in vain, but by liberally responding, our city will continue to retain its reputation for generosity, and also be the means of leading a helping hand to suffering humanity.

PASSENGERS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Ajax sailed for San Francisco yesterday morning with the following passengers: S Guthrie, L S Strauss, B F Royce, A Wild, Mrs C Root, P Cooper and wife, O H Dodd, R Hoyt, Miss S Hoyt, W. W. Powers, Chas Buck, Wm McCraun, Miss A Streeter, A Ryan, H J Dowe, Mrs Earickson and child, C Lovassaier, R Leveridge, Thos Parry, C T Lebelltister, J Delany, J E Clark, E F Lord, Col. West, N Leigh, Ned Levy, Jacob Loeb, Mrs A. B. McCready, S H Thompson, Mrs F Scott and 2 children, W Holbrook, D T Spencer, G B Farrington, Ed O'Kearne, Mrs Ryan and 3 children, Mrs Streeter, C Stephens and Bro, G C Walker, M A King, F Marshall, Mrs Towler, G T Hesfield, S M Johnson, R Gaudy, W A Delano, W. V. E. Co's Messenger, and 103 in the steerage.

DAMAGE TO SHIPPING.—The Windward while anchored in the Columbia river near Astoria, on Sunday night was caught in a cyclone and thrown on her beam-ends. In order to right her and save the ship it became necessary to cut away her masts and standing rigging. She now lies completely dismasted. It will require several weeks to repair damages and place her in order.

ROW.—A negro and Chinaman engaged in a fisticuff last night at the corner of First and Washington streets. The melee was witnessed by a large number of persons who appeared to enjoy the sport hugely. A policeman put a stop to the fight by marching the combatants off to jail, much to the disgust of the spectators.

THE SENATOR.—This boat was raised yesterday, and towed to Oregon City, where she will be repaired and placed in running order. The damage she sustained is of a trifling character, and will be repaired so as to enable her to resume her place on the route between this city and Oregon City by Friday.

DIRECTORS.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Masonic Building Association held at the office of Atkinson & Woodward, No. 102 Front street, the following Directors were elected for the ensuing year: J. C. Ainsworth, E. M. Barton, J. B. Congle, J. McCraken and J. L. Atkinson.

INSIDE.—The Dixie Thompson reports that when she left Astoria yesterday morning, the Windward, Bessie and Rival had crossed the Bar. The Windward reports as having met with heavy weather, and in a storm which lasted for several hours, lost a portion of her rigging.

THE WEST SIDE ROAD.—In yesterday's issue in speaking of this road we stated that the track had been laid to Cornelius. In this we were in error. The road is finished only to the "twenty mile stake," which is this side of Hillsboro, and Cornelius is three miles beyond that place.

IN THE RIVER.—The barks Alden Besse and Harrington, from Newport, Wales, and loaded with railroad iron, are at Astoria. The masters of these vessels arrived in the city by last night's boat from Astoria.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon a drunken man, while walking along First street, fell and broke his left arm. The man was so intoxicated as to be unable to give his name.

THE WINDWARD.—Owing to the non-arrival of this vessel a number of Chinamen who some time since engaged passage on her for Hongkong have withdrawn their passage money.

SLEIGHING.—Everybody and his uncle were out yesterday sleighing. The reporters, owing to a vacancy in their pocket-books, enjoyed the sport from the sidewalks.

FROM THE COLUMBIA.—Advices from the Dalles represent the weather as being very cold, but the river still continues open, although there is considerable floating ice.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL.—The Unitarian Sunday School will hold a Christmas festival, at the Chapel, on Tuesday evening after Christmas.

DELAYED.—The Dixie Thompson in making the trip from Astoria yesterday, was delayed several hours by high winds.

On Tuesday last there arrived in this city by the Oregon and California Railroad two men from Long Tom who had come all the way here to purchase suits of clothing from J. O'Neil & Co. They had been reading the Oregonian, and found that O'Neil & Co. were selling goods cheap, consequently they journeyed thitherward. O'Neil & Co. supplied them with the star shirt, under shirt, neck-ties and other articles the parties being sure that O'Neil & Co. did the handsome thing with their customers. Go thou and do likewise, at O'Neil & Co.'s, 93 First street.

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTLAND.

The undersigned on behalf of the Trustees and members of the "Home," desire to place before you a few facts in connection with their work among the poor of this city.

The organization known as the "The Ladies' Relief Society" has been identified for the last four years with the charitable work of the community. During this time it has afforded relief to 120 families—to some of them for long periods. The good it has done, the influence it has exercised in the charities of the place cannot be estimated in figures.

Wholly unsectarian in character, the Society has looked to the benevolence of the public, as the source of its supplies. It has gained the confidence of the people of Portland by its prudence and efficiency, and taken this opportunity of acknowledging the unfailing liberality with which every call for additional funds has been met by the generosity of the citizens.

With the growth of our city, and the rapid incoming of strangers, the duties of the Society have enlarged, and the sphere of its activities has insensibly widened. From the first, those engaged in it have felt the need of having some house where temporary shelter might be given to the unfortunate or strangers, and a home be provided for orphaned or wandering children. But the experience of the past year has been such as to satisfy not only those personally engaged among the poor, but the general public, that the time has come when this need takes the form of an absolute duty. A home however humble, as a shelter to the shelterless, and a refuge to the distressed, must be built immediately, and we are called upon in the light of our self-respect as a city, and our duty to a Christian community, to take such steps as may be requisite to establish it.

A few months ago an opportunity presented itself to the Society of purchasing two lots, corner of 14th and F streets, partially improved, for two thousand dollars. Through the munificence of twelve gentlemen, added to the savings of the Society, the whole sum was raised in a few days. In order to hold real estate, it was necessary to form an incorporation. Accordingly, articles were drawn up, and under the name of the "Home" the Society purchased the land upon which can be placed a building whenever the sum of money needed can be subscribed.

It is to this end that we appeal to the citizens of Portland, to Churches, organizations and individuals, that three thousand dollars may be raised as a building fund. After a careful estimate, this sum seems to be the least to adequately meet the demand. We rely upon the self-sacrificing generosity of the public to put such an institution to our midst. Its influence will be incalculable, and it will fully give evidence of the fact while our city grows in wealth and influence, it is also growing in a sense of its duty to suffering humanity.

The question may be asked: "What are the emergencies which render this institution necessary? What facts are presented to show that it should be built?" We answer by pointing to the record of the work of the society; where you will find cases of destitution sometimes embracing whole families; cases where for months large sums are paid out for rent, fuel and food; cases where women would and could gladly go out to work, were there a place for a child or children to be temporarily cared for; cases where the death of a parent has created the exigency for shelter and relief; cases of wretched, sin-crazed women from whom their innocent children could be taken; cases where they would gladly give them away to see them provided for; cases of illness, where the expense of nursing would in a great measure be avoided by having this home; cases of young girls to be saved through its offered protection from the fearful drift of vice. This home would in uncounted ways rescue the despairing and the lost. We believe that the first year of its existence will vindicate the necessity. It will prove this charity to be founded not in sentiment but in sober justice and mercy.

In the by-laws of "The Home," it is stated that the payment of one hundred dollars by any individual will constitute him or her a life honorary member. The sums accruing under this provision form the endowment and building fund of the institution. It is hoped that at least two-thirds of the amount needed will be obtained in this way. The sum is not large in comparison to the good to be done. It is no more than we owe, and it is a privilege to give where we can be so well assured of permanent blessing.

The year which is closing has been one of unexampled prosperity to this community. Can we better end it than by setting apart a portion of our abundance to the use of such an institution? It may be found in some one's heart to give not only the value of a life membership, but a sum that will at once place this subscription beyond the fear of failure. Such a gift would shine more brightly in the sight of God than fortunate investments or hoarded bonds. Commending the cause to your attention and interest, we remain for the society,

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—The attendance at this theater last night was far from being satisfactory—in fact the house was uncomfortably empty. The performers, with a "beggarly account of empty boxes" before them, were not imbued with that spirit of animation that is requisite to make a minstrel performance a success. The troupe is a good one, and as such deserves to be supported. It is true, that one or two members are not exactly up to the standard of first class performers, but then there are several who are above the average. Scott and Purdy are both clever comedians—the former being one of the best interlocutors, or middle-men, in the business, while the latter is by far the best delineator of the negro character that has ever appeared in this city. A portion of the programme might be "cut," and that, too, without offending in the slightest degree any of the audience. The troupe, as we have already remarked, with one or two exceptions, is a good one, and, as such, is worthy of a more flattering reception than it has received from the hands (and purses) of our theater-goers. A change of programme this evening.

SKATING RINK.—Miss Carrie Moore, the Skatorial Queen, has been engaged and will appear on Thursday evening. The price of admission has been fixed at twenty-five cents.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE SHERIFF BILLS.

The funeral of the late Sheriff Bills, whose death has cast such a gloom over the city, took place yesterday morning. On Monday every arrangement had been made by the various societies to which the deceased belonged, the city and county officials, the Fire Department, of which he was an exempt member, to pay the last tribute of respect to an honored and esteemed brother, an enterprising citizen, a warm-hearted and generous friend. At eleven o'clock, the funeral procession, headed by the East Portland Band, was formed at the late residence of the deceased, from whence the body was taken to the Taylor-st. M.E. Church, where an eloquent and touching sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Roberts. The reverend gentleman feelingly alluded to the many exemplary qualities possessed by the deceased, and concluded by paying a high tribute to his memory. After the funeral services, which were both of a solemn and impressive character, the procession was reformed, and the remains escorted to the cemetery in East Portland, where they were consigned to their final resting place. During the march of the funeral cortege, bells were tolled, and the whole city wore an air that betokened a deep-felt sorrow at the loss of one of Portland's purest and most energetic and enterprising citizens. The large concourse that followed the remains testified to the high esteem and regard in which the late Civilian Bills was held by his fellow-citizens. The death of such a citizen makes a void, but it leaves behind a life which is itself is a monument.

Peril and Precaution.

This is a season that tries the frame and the constitution. If there be a weak spot in either, the chilling damps, the malarious fogs, the variations of temperature that mark the commencement of the winter season are sure to find it out. There are few systems that have not a weak spot somewhere, and the wisest thing that any man or woman can do is to fortify it by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and thus keep the enemy at bay. In war, when a city is menaced the first thing to be done is to strengthen the ramparts. The same policy should be adopted with the human body, when its direct foe, malaria, is abroad. If the stomach is weak, this tonic will lend it vigor; if the bowels are morbidly sensitive, this alterative will regulate them; if the liver is inert, this wholesome stimulant will rouse it; if there is constipation, this aperient will cure it; if there is nervous debility, this service will replace it with nervous vigor; if there is impurity in the blood, this depurent will neutralize it; if there is a cloud on the spirits, this exhilarant will dispel it. These are facts that have been demonstrated every day for the last twenty years. Can as much be said for any other medicine or rather, can as much be proved, for anything may be said by the unscrupulous. Do not accept any of the local bitters sometimes recommended by dealers in lieu of the Standard Restorative.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!

PURELY MUTUAL!

ASSETS.....$17,000,000!

ISSUED 9,925 POLICIES IN 1870.

Insuring Over $27,000,000!

WM. H. BEERS, Vice President and Actuary. MORRIS FRANKLIN, President.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are:—

1st. PURE MUTUALITY, so that the entire surplus earnings over the actual cost of insurance is returned to the policy holders who are the only members.

2d. AGE, having been organized in 1845. It has the benefit of the experience of a quarter of a century, and members are thus guaranteed from all doubtful experiment in the method of conducting its business.

3d. STABILITY AND PERPETUITY shown by the accumulation of a capital of Seventeen Millions of Dollars, after paying all losses promptly, and returning to its members. It has now an income of over Seven Millions of Dollars, and the interest on its investments, with premium on gold, &c., has been sufficient during the past two years to pay accruing losses.

4th. NON-FORFEITURE OF POLICIES. It originated the system of non-forfeiture of policies, and to it the public are indebted for a feature so favorable to the insured.

5th. SUICIDE does not cause a forfeiture of the policy, that being considered on evidence of insanity, and insanity the result of disease.

6th. DIVIDENDS. Its dividends are declared annually, and are available immediately as cash in payment of premiums. Many companies declare their premiums annually, but do not pay them till several years thereafter, others defer their declarations for two, three or four years from the time the policy commences. In this Company a party always has a dividend which can be used in the payment of the second and all subsequent annual premiums.

7th. ITS DIVIDEND SYSTEM is the "Contribution Plan," by which each member is charged with the exact cost of his insurance, and receives back his surplus payments. Thus dividends can remain with the Company, participating in the surplus, and be used at any subsequent period in the payment of premiums.

8th. LIBERALITY IN SETTLEMENT OF LOSSES. Experience has shown that cases arise where policies, although EQUITABLY claims, are not LEGALLY so. The records of this Company bear many acknowledgements from widows and relatives of deceased members of liberality and fairness in settlement of all such issues. There being no stockholders in the Company to share its profits, interests adverse to policy-holders cannot possibly arise. The Trustees simply occupying the position of arbitrators between the members, with no inducement to take from one and give to another.

Slices of soap were substituted for ham in some sandwiches provided for a ball supper, at Louisville. The joker was delighted at his success, but the jokees failed to relish it.

A western backwoods politician is in favor of the "one-term principle." He has a woman's rights wife, he says, who is a termagant, and is not in favor of the continuance of her administration.

A maiden lady of Chester, South Carolina, was robbed of what little money she had at an early hour one night recently. Later in the night three men knocked at the door, and upon being admitted returned the entire amount.

A barkeeper in a Philadelphia saloon discovered, a few days ago, through an advertisement in a newspaper, that he had fallen heir to £23,928, by the death of his grandmother in Ireland. His name is Wm. A. W. White. He came to New York from Ireland six years ago, since which time he has been a boot-black and, newsboy in New York, having but recently gone to Philadelphia.

A Detroit policeman found a note-book which evidently belonged to a man of careful habits. The book is full of such sentences as these: Monday, buy a gallon of whisky today; take four drinks. Tuesday: get a gallon of whisky at noon of ; also get a shave; don't get drunk. Wednesday: see if the whisky is out; also don't drink until after dinner; also see about more whisky.

The British Museum is the prospective possessor of the skin of a seaman who was captured by the Chinese and most ingeniously and elaborately tattooed by them. The process was designed by the captors to produce death, and the seaman was the only survivor of three who were subjected to it. He is now in good health and enjoying to the utmost the proceeds of the sale of his curious article.

The London Spectator and the New York Evening Post have had an odd difference of opinion regarding the estimate of Shakespeare in "Taine's English Literature." The Spectator, after subscribing the language of eulogy on the book, declares that the estimate of Shakespeare is one of its best features. The Post praises the book, as a whole, in the most enthusiastic terms, and says that the estimate of Shakespeare is almost its only blemish.

The Nation, speaking of the services which Mr. Thomas Nast has rendered to the cause of reform in Harper's Weekly, says:

"To Mr. Nast it is hardly possible to award too much praise. He has carried political illustrations during the last six months to a pitch of excellence never before attained in this country, and has secured for them an influence on opinion such as they never came near having in any country. It is right to say that he brought the rascalities of the ring home to hundreds of thousands who never would have looked at the figures and printed denunciations, and he did it all without ever being for one moment weak, or paltry, or vulgar, which is saying much for a man from whose pencil caricatures were teeming every week so long."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

The steamer Ajax left this A. M. with passengers and cargo of produce for San Francisco.

The bark Grace Roberts cleared to-day for San Francisco. She will proceed to Astoria under tow, where she will take on a deck load of (40,000,000 feet) Lumber. This is one of the quickest dispatches ever made in this port, and reflects great credit on the consignee.

The bark Helen W. Almy, as soon as discharged, will be laid on for San Francisco. She will take on here 150 tons of produce and complete cargo with Salmon down the river.

The ship Windward and barks Ericsf and Alden Besse are reported at Astoria. The Windward had to cut away her masts to keep her from being driven ashore. The Besse draws 20 feet of water.

There is a better feeling in the Wood market, though quotations remain unchanged. If the storm now prevailing continues a few days longer, prices of every article in the Yard line will be advanced, owing to light receipts and the prospect of receipts being still lighter, with the demand good for local consumption. The completion of the last twenty miles of the West Side Railroad will cause farmers on the line of the road having Oats or Hay to market the same at early day, by taking advantage of the road as soon as freight trains commence running regularly.

The total stock of Grain in Liverpool, London and Gloucester, both American and foreign, with no English Grain stocks to speak of, on Nov. 1st, 1871, was as follows:

	Liverpool.	London.	Gloucester
Wheat	453,984	438,522	20,170
Corn	60,870	20,850	31,220

Barley	3,033	50,408	43,200
Rye		1,104
Peas	5,271	2,803
Beans	26,229	8,063	10,200
Buckwheat		1,024
Malt		2,050
Oat meal, loads, 280 lbs	8,793
Flour, bbls and sks	135,142

Blocks left blank were not made up on Nov. 1st. The stock of Wheat at Marseilles, France, on Nov. 4th was 450,000 qrs., and 380,000 qrs. on the 1st of October, and 306,000 qrs. on the 1st of September. By the above table it appears that the stock of foreign Wheat in Liverpool, London and Gloucester on Nov. 1st amounted to nearly 6,000,000 bushels, and in Marseilles to about 2,500,000 bushels.

Many doubts exist in the minds of many of our leading merchants regarding the feasibility of direct shipments of assorted merchandise, from European ports to this city; they will be at once dispelled by visiting the well-filled condition in which the cargo of the bark Sarracosta is delivered. In going through the store of Messrs. Janion & Rhodes, to whom nearly all the goods came, we could not discover a damaged package or a package stained in the least, and this, we are informed, is the way in which the entire cargo is turning out. The preserves, pickles, and many articles of a like nature, look as fresh as if just put up, giving them a greater advantage than the majority of like articles bought of English importers in San Francisco, as it is not at all unlikely that many articles imported into San Francisco lay in the warehouses sometime before sold to consumers, which, of course, tells more or less against preserves, pickles, and like articles. And another thing must be taken into consideration, and that is, the handling of goods. European goods when shipped to San Francisco for this market are bought of importers in San Francisco, necessitates being handled at least four times oftener than if shipped direct to this port from Europe, viz.: From the ship in San Francisco to the wharf, the shed to the dray, the dray to the vessel coming up here, and in many instances they are placed in warehouses where they are handled six times oftener than if shipped to this port direct. The effect of this handling is, if not in damaging the goods, to make the articles perhaps less attractive, and to also increase cost. Those of our merchants who do not intend forming foreign connections so as to enable them to make direct importations with profit, should see to it that those who are engaged in importing are satisfied by making their purchases from them of such goods as are required for their trade. Firms engaged in importing do not wish to job their goods out on the contrary, will always make concessions to jobbers who purchase in lots. Our policy as a commercial city is to foster by all means possible, direct trade to and from us, and to do so more effectually is to make all our purchases, not at exorbitant rates or above importers prices in San Francisco with freight added, but at fair rates of those importing foreign goods direct; for the more purchased of importers the more vessels will be on the way to our port, and the greater will be the attention drawn to us, and, as a means of advertising us, nothing can be better. The vessel coming here will seek return cargoes of our production, and also come to be expended no small amount of money for legitimate waste and incidental expenses of both vessels and men.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—There were one or two parties offering small lots yesterday, but owing to shippers not offering above $2 20 ₩ cental, sacked and delivered, were not inclined to sell. The amount reported in the country, locally termed, to come forward, is larger than has been the right, but owing to the lack of ocean transportation to the United Kingdom cannot be brought forward yet. We quote shippers' offers at $2 15@2 20 ₩ cental, sacked.

FLOUR—The steamer Ajax cleared with about 3,000 barrels and the Grace Roberts with 2,904 barrels, both for San Francisco. Prices unchanged from yesterday's quotations.

OATS—We note the sale by a farmer of a small lot at $2 55 ₩ cental, which was below the market, as the market rules from $2 60@2 65 ₩ cental, sacked.

POULTRY—Notwithstanding receipts are large, prices were advanced to-day for large fat fowl, hens and roosters to $4 ₩ doz., under an active demand. Fat Turkeys continued good prices. Dealers are buying at the following prices: Hens and Roosters, $4 ₩ doz; Turkeys, 15@20 ₩ lb; for Turkeys of command more; Geese, $8 50@10 ₩ doz. Ducks, $3@3 50 ₩ doz.

EGGS—The market, under light receipts and an active demand, is quotable strong at 50c ₩ doz.

WOOL—New York advices state that buyers cleaned the market of foreign and in consequence prices for choice grades were firm at an advance.

General Merchandise.

COFFEE—Another advance has been effected in Rio Janeiro, and in consequence the New York market was marked up on the 1st of this month. With those continued advances East the San Francisco market shows more firmness.

DRUGS—New York advices of Nov. 30th, quote as follows: Opium continues inactive, but prices are nominally unchanged. Morphine and Quinine are only in moderate request at former rates. Salt Nitrate Bismuth is 10@15c lower; $3 75@4. Carbolic Acids are 65@70c which is a decline of 5c from previous values. Nitrate Ammonia is higher at 40@45c for crystals and do fused. Carbolic Acid (crys.) is reduced to $1 10@1 20. Extract Licorice is easier, 42@50c. American Isinglass has declined to $2 25@2 75. Sugar of Lead is off, at 20@22c. Sweet Oil Almond is higher, and has advanced to 95@100c. Oil Sesame is quoted at $2 25@2 60. Oil Cloves is reduced to $1 05@1 85. White Cod Liver Oil is cheaper, at $1 00@1 05. Caraway and Coriander seed are each lower, and are now quoted at 13@16c. Cream Tartar (powdered) is easier, at 32@40c. Other varieties of Drugs are without material alteration.

Daily Receipts of Produce.

Per O. & C. R. R.—2 cans powder, E J N; 1 can splindle, 1 bx merchandize, J Cousar; 1 kg dried plums, 1 cs butter, Loweridge, Wadhams & Co.

PORTLAND, OREGON, August 1, 1871.

THE COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO EXTEND the pre-emption privilege of purchasing Railroad Lands in advance of the usual time, limited in amount to all parties desirous of securing them on the following terms:

The applicant files in this office a claim in the form prescribed, to-wit:

Pre-emption, } date, No. —
To the Land Agent of the European and Oregon Land Company:

SIR: You are hereby notified that I have settled upon and improved (description of land) in the county of ——, State of Oregon, before the survey thereof for market, and claim a pre-emption right to purchase said lands at the Company's valuation in accordance with the following resolution of the Directors of said Company, adopted on the twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1871, to the terms of which I hereby fully assent:

"Resolved, That the parties settling upon and improving any of the lands of the European and Oregon Land Company, before the same are offered for market, shall be entitled to the pre-emption privilege of purchase on the same terms as the Company would sell the land for without improvement, and shall be subject to the same conditions of payment, and all other lands belonging to the Company, when brought into market, provided such settlers shall file in the Land Office of said Company, written application, giving notice of such settlement, and shall accept the privilege upon the condition that when the price of the land is duly fixed, notice thereof shall be sent by the Company's Land Agent, through the Postoffice, or otherwise, as may be convenient, to the residence of the party claiming the pre-emption privilege, and if the land is not purchased by the said party, within sixty days from the date of such notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person."

(Signed) ——— (Name of applicant.)
(Postoffice address.)

When the application is received, a certificate, signed by the Agent, obligating the Company to the terms, will be sent to the claimant in the following form:

PRE-EMPTION CERTIFICATE, No. ——.

This is to certify that ——— of ——— county, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office a pre-emption claim to (description of premises), and is hereby entitled to the first privilege of purchasing said land at the Company's valuation, (which is to be made without reference to improvements) when the same shall be placed in market, in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26, A. D. 1871.

When the price of the above-described land is fixed, notice thereof will be sent to the party to whom this Certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party as the holder hereof within sixty days from the date of said notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person.

(Signed) ———
Land Agent of the E. & O. Land Co.

The lands will be appraised by a competent, disinterested party, under oath, at their actual present value—no fancy or prospective price on the basis of similar lands in the vicinity, and when appraisement is made they will be sold in quantity not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to one person, payable in five equal annual instalments, with interest from date of contract, at ten per cent. per annum, principal and interest payable in United States Legal Tender Notes. Warranty deeds given after United States Patent issues, upon payment in full.
